

You're Worth It Blessing

I wonder how many services are inspired by an advertising slogan!?

God who shows us love through friends and family In cards made with crayons and glue and sticky homemade cupcakes who knows that beauty is not found in a pot of face cream but sends us out into the week saying,
You're worth it.

Jesus who shows us love through stories and parables through sharing food and friendship with those who have made a mess of life who knows that value is not found in the status society gives us but sends us out into the week saying,
You're worth it.

Holy Spirit who shows us love in unexpected places in random acts of kindness and welcoming of strangers who knows that worth is not found in bunches of flowers slushy cards or boxes of chocolates but sends us out into the week challenging us to say, You're worth it.

So let's send each other out into the week
By saying the words, "You're worth it" to one another.
You're worth it!
AMEN.

© Clare McBeath and Tim Presswood, 2009, adapted from Mother's Day You're Worth It Blessing