

God's Presence

God present in the vastness of creation
God present in the intimacy of home

God present in the lofty mountains
God present in the deepest valley

God present in the vibration of thunder
God present in stillness of silence

God present in urban city street
God present in rural village lane

God present in the unknown stranger
God present in the life-long friend

God present in the bitterness of grief
God present in the bubbly celebration

God present in through the changing times
God present in the uniqueness of this moment

Remain with us
Protect us
Guard us and enfold us in your loving embrace.

© Clare McBeath and Tim Presswood, 2008 (first written for Roots)