

Encountering God

God meets the Israelites in the gushing of water from a desert spring God meets a Samaritan woman by a well in the heat of the day God meets us in the everyday meeting places of shops and playgrounds

Come to encounter God
Come to encounter one another Come to encounter yourself

For it is here in this place and in all places at this time and in all times
with these people and with all people that God encounters the miracles of creation.

©Clare McBeath & Tim Presswood, 2007