

When Dreams Fail Us

Just looking at the language of this prayer or blessing I am guessing it was written for a series on the Exodus Story but it could relate to any situation where dreams have not quite materialised and reminds us that God goes with us and before us.

When dreams fail us
God go with us, God go before us.

When bondage ensnares us
God go with us, God go before us.

When all hope is gone
God go with us, God go before us.

Keep our eyes on the promised land
God go with us, God go before us.

© Clare McBeath and Tim Presswood, 2007