

The Call Of The Temple

When we stand in awe of the magnificence of the temple
Jesus calls us to look for the kingdom hidden among us.

When we value the security of wealth and insurance premiums
Jesus reminds us that we cannot predict the future.

When we allow corruption and injustice to go unchallenged
Jesus prompts us to ask the difficult questions.

When we are overwhelmed by the pain and struggles of living
Jesus teaches us to hope and dream of a new birth.

We draw near hesitant, afraid, searching, hoping,
to worship the one who calls us to one another who calls us to a new way of living for ourselves and the world.

© Clare McBeath and Tim Presswood, 2006